Designing Business Continuity Solutions

Part of the DESIGN stage of the BCM Lifecycle

Course Description

This one day learning experience will cover how to design appropriate business continuity (BC) solutions, determine recovery objectives and prepare for the Implementation stage of the Business Continuity Management (BCM) Lifecycle, as well as designing an efficient incident response structure.

This course provides the business continuity and resilience professional with the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the Design stage of the BCM Lifecycle. The Design stage builds on the outcomes from the Analysis stage.

During this course students will use a case study and take part in group discussions and exercises.

This course is based on the BCI Good Practice Guidelines 2018.

Course Objectives

- Understand and explore the options for designing business continuity solutions.
- Set recovery point objectives and recovery time objectives.
- Prepare for the Implementation stage of the BCM Lifecycle.
- Design an effective incident response structure.

Who Should Attend?

Business continuity and resilience professionals who require in-depth knowledge and an understanding of how to design business continuity solutions appropriate for their organisation.

It is recommended that students have a minimum of a CBCI or equivalent credential with experience working in a continuity and resilience related role.

Course Delivery

This BCI training course is delivered as a one day, classroom based course by an approved BCI tutor. During this course delegates will be taking part in group discussions and activities.
