Course Description

This BCI Supply Chain Resilience course is about understanding the basics of supply chain management and how to add resilience measures to them, and therefore, the business.

In recent times supply chains have been under increased global pressure and have become more complex due to issues such as the pandemic, border closures, and climate change affects. So, ensuring you build resilience into them is even more vital, now more than ever, for the success of any business.

This one day course comes complete with course slides and a workbook that contains discussion-based activities to be completed throughout the course.

The course is based on the Good Practice Guidelines Edition 7.0 and reflects current International Standards in business continuity.

Testimonial

"James [McAlister] was absolutely excellent! Almost felt like being in a classroom. I have completed 2 other virtual training courses [with another company] and he was head and shoulders above the rest."
